

WILD With Eczema

I was a sufferer for eight years from Eczema, but now an entirely cured. The palms of my hands were covered and badly inflamed; little white blisters appeared, then would peel off, leaving a red, smooth surface, which would burn like fire and itch. On the inside of the upper part of my limbs, great red blotches would appear, and as soon as I became warm, the burning and itching would begin. Night after night I would lie awake and scratch, and almost go wild. I got a box of CUTICURA, and a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and after a few applications I noticed the redness and inflammation disappear, before I had used one box there was not a sign of Eczema left. I can truthfully assert that $2.00 worth of CUTICURA RESOLVENT cured me.

NOW AN ASSURED FACT.

Roanoke Will Have the Great Football Game Between V. M. I. and V. P. I.

It is now an assured fact that the people of Roanoke will have the pleasure of witnessing a fine game of football on Thanksgiving day. In a letter received yesterday morning by John H. Morris from F. Phinizy, of the Virginia Military Institute, that gentleman stated that he had heard from Blacksburg that the game had been arranged for this place and asked that the grounds be put in first class order. This will be a great contest, and it is estimated that several thousand people will be attracted to Roanoke to witness the stubborn fight between the evenly matched eleven representing the Virginia Military Institute and the Virginia Polytechnic Institute. The Norfolk and Western railroad will run special trains from Buena Vista, Lynchburg and Radford and make special rates from points on the Roanoke and Southern.

The business men of this city are taking great interest in the matter. They should do all they can to make it a complete success, for aside from the fact that this game will decide whether or not the great college teams will play here in the future, the matter of so many strangers being in the town will be a great benefit to all lines of business. The Stone Printing and Manufacturing Company has made the first "kick-off" by donating 2,000 admission tickets, printed and numbered complete. The game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock and tickets will be on sale on and after Saturday next at Paul Massie's Pharmacy and Vaughan's Terry building cigar stand. There will be no game in Lynchburg on Thanksgiving, so far as Roanoke College or Allegheny Institute is concerned, those institutions having promised to attend the game here that day.

THE BERRY CASE.

The Excitement Intense—Prosecution Rested Their Case Yesterday.

Bedford City, Va., Nov. 17.—The trial of T. D. Berry, a director of the Liberty Savings Bank and president of the First National Bank, of this city, is still the all-absorbing topic of the day. The excitement over the matter is so great and the interest so intense that business has practically ceased. The courthouse is filled by hundreds of citizens during the progress of the trial. The day was taken up by the examination of the evidence to the value of the paper held by the Liberty Savings Bank at the time of the closing of the doors, and the prosecution is bending every energy to prove that the defendant knew the bank was insolvent prior to April 14. The testimony for the prosecution was closed to-day and to-morrow morning Mr. Berry will be put on the stand for the defense, when some interesting developments in the case are expected.

LONG NAME, SHORT SESSION.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 17.—The National Convention of Agricultural Implement and Vehicle Manufacturers convened at the capitol to-day. No business was transacted except the reading of President Straver's annual address. Addresses of welcome were made by John J. McCann for the Tennessee centennial, and Capt. A. J. Harris for the chamber of commerce.

OUT FOR A TOGA.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—Ex-Postmaster General Wanamaker has signified his willingness to be a candidate for United States Senator from Pennsylvania to succeed J. Donald Cameron, whose term expires March 3, 1897. The executive committee of the Philadelphia branch of the National League of Business Men sent a letter to Mr. Wanamaker yesterday, asking him to allow the use of his name as a candidate. The committee to-day received a letter from Mr. Wanamaker consenting to be a candidate.

Much Talk About the Army Officer Who Killed a Civilian.

Berlin, Nov. 17.—The chancellor, Prince Hohenlohe, replying to the interpellation of Herr August Munkel, of the People's party, on the Brusewitz incident of October 13 last, when a lieutenant ran a sword through a workman named Siebmann, who had accidentally pushed against the officer's chair while entering a cafe, stated that the military department was preparing new regulations with the object of limiting duelling as much as possible.

The chief change in the regulations, as proposed, was that if an officer insulted another the matter should be left to the decision of a court of honor, but the judgment of the court should never be worked in such a way as to make a duel a necessity, or even to imply the recognition of such means of settling a dispute. Gen. Von Gossler, the minister of war, then addressed the house, dealing directly with the Brusewitz affair. Lieutenant Brusewitz, it was alleged, killed the civilian because he believed that the honor of his uniform had been tarnished by the accidental pushing against his chair by the unfortunate workman. The officer was court-martialed and sentenced to four years' imprisonment and dismissal from the army.

General Gossler, amid constant interruptions, then went on to announce that the judgment of the court-martial had been pronounced, but had not yet been sanctioned. Continuing, the minister of war said that the documents bearing on the affair were to be submitted by imperial command to the ministry of war, and so soon as this was done the sentence would be published, together with the reasons which prompted it.

Gen. Gossler then alluded to Herr Munkel's "fire-brand speech," which caused a great uproar in the house. The minister then cited cases of officers who had been grossly insulted by unknown persons and he declared that officers who have not a proper feeling of military honor and a becoming sense of the dignity of their position deserve to be gotten rid of, "for on those sentiments depend the martial efficiency of the army."

The general further said: "The honor attaching to wearing the king's uniform and respect for the colors are military sentiments that we shall never abandon. The right of self-defense must never be taken from officers." (Loud protests.)

Herr Bebel, socialist leader, said: "How can it be said that whoever attacks the king's uniform thereby insults the king? In 1799 the king threatened with pain of death any military man who flouted a civilian. Things will at last come to such a pass that a uniform of the Cuirassiers Guard will be suspended like Gessler's hat and the people will be required to make obeisance to the emperor's horse. It is in vain to endeavor by a word from an august mouth to bring the people to such a state of fear and trembling that they will bow the knee in silence. Success is so impossible for views so diametrically opposed to everything that he is the greatest fool who is constantly trying to make them prevail."

EPISCOPAL CONGRESS.

The Initial Meeting Was Held in Norfolk Last Night.

Norfolk, Nov. 17.—The seventh congress of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States was formally opened to-night at the Academy of Music.

The preliminary opening took place this morning in Christ Church with the celebration of the holy communion. Bishop A. M. Randolph presided and he was assisted by the rectors of the local churches.

Following the communion service came an address by Right Rev. Bishop H. Y. Satterlee, D. D., of Washington, from the Scripture, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, mind and strength," which was highly edifying and instructive and was a fitting opening for the four days of business and church work discussion which follow.

The church was filled to repletion, and the solemnity and dignity surrounding the service was inspiring to earnest thought and endeavor. The singing of the church congress choir, of more than 100 voices, directed by Prof. J. J. Miller, was greatly enjoyed.

The business session was opened to-night at the Academy of Music with an address of welcome by Right Rev. A. M. Randolph, D. D., L. L. D., bishop of Southern Virginia. Topic: "How Can Social Unity be Best Attained?"

Writers: Rev. Frederick P. Reese, Macon, Ga.; Rev. Prof. Ezra P. Gould, D. D., Divinity School, Philadelphia.

Speakers: Edwin L. Godkin, editor of Evening Post, New York; Rev. William S. Rainsford, D. D., New York, and George Wharton Pepper, Philadelphia.

The decorations at the Academy are beautiful. Admiral Brown, of the navy, sent two sailors from the U. S. S. Newark, who entwined the spirals and pillars with ivy in an artistic manner.

FOX HUNTERS.

Kentucky Sportsmen Have a Large Meet at Bardston.

Bardston, Ky., Nov. 17.—The National Fox Hunters Association's third annual meeting for fox hound trials brought together a large assemblage of fox hunters from all parts of the country.

Twenty-one fox hounds under eighteen months of age which were entered for the National Hound Derby took the field to-day. As a result of to-day's running only four hounds were spotted out, which leaves seventeen in. These are to run again to-morrow, but it is not likely that it will be put into the hunt. The foxes seemed to avoid the open country, so most of the running was done in the woods over very rough country. Major Slack's horse fell at the first fence, but its rider was not injured. H. C. Trigg, a banker at Glasgow, Ky., was not so fortunate, his face being hurt. The meeting promises to be a great success.

COMMERCIAL GLORIFICATION.

A Banquet of the Plutocrats Held in New York Last Night.

New York, Nov. 17.—The 128th annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, which was held this evening at Delmonico's, was the most notable yearly gathering that has been held by that great organization. Considered in view of the outcome of the national election, it might justly be called a "commercial glorification" by the 400 members and the 200 guests who attended the dinner.

Many of the speeches were distinctly of a congratulatory character and those who led the fight against free coinage were given unstinted praise, while every mention of their names was greeted with applause.

President Cleveland and Governor Morton were unable to attend the banquet but they wrote letters which, when read, were received with wild cheering.

The main hall in which President Alexander E. Orr and the guests of honor were seated was tastefully decorated.

Seated at the guests table were the Rev. Dr. David H. Greer, Charles S. Smith, Samuel D. Babcock, Seth Low, Mayor Strong, Gen. Nelson A. Miles, Whiteley Reid, Gov. John W. Griggs, of New Jersey; Postmaster General William L. Wilson, Secretary J. Sterling Morton, Senator Joseph R. Hawley, Comptroller Eckels, Joseph H. Walker, W. Bourke Cockran, Admiral Henry Erben, Commodore Montgomery Seward and Murt Halstead.

A GEORGIA SHOOTING.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 17.—A special to the Journal from Swainsboro, Ga., says: A serious shooting affair occurred at McLeods, a small station five miles below here, on the Stillmore road, last evening in which three young men were mortally wounded. Felix Rountree and two brothers, John and Lawson Sutton, had some words about a settlement at Sutton's gin. John Sutton knocked Rountree down with a piece of iron. Rountree rose, drew his pistol, shot five times, missing, and then drawing another he fired five more shots, mortally wounding both the Sutton brothers. As he walked off some one unknown shot him in the back, mortally wounding him. All parties are well-to-do and highly connected.

PUT BURGLAR TO FLIGHT.

Bold Deed of a New Jersey Woman When Her Home Was in Danger.

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 17.—The courage of a brave woman early yesterday morning frustrated a bold attempt at burglary and possibly prevented murder. The woman is Mrs. Julia Heidingfeld, wife of a well-to-do printer and bookbinder.

Mrs. Heidingfeld, at twenty minutes to 2 in the morning, was aroused from a sound sleep by the raising of a window. As she turned her eyes toward a window, which opens on an alley that runs to the rear of the house, No. 39 Albany street, the woman saw the form of a man. A light was burning low on a bureau, so that the startled woman could see the burglar distinctly. His body was part way through the window, and one of his hands rested upon a table inside of the room.

Mr. Heidingfeld had not been awakened by the noise. Instead of arousing him the woman sprung from the bed and, seizing a heavy oak towel rack, hurled it with all her force at the burglar. It struck him squarely in the face, knocking him back through the window. With a cry of alarm and pain the man sank to the ground under the window, which is on the first floor, and lay there a moment as if stunned. Mrs. Heidingfeld is young and muscular. When the burglar fell back from the blow glass was shattered around him. The breaking of the glass awakened the sleeping husband, who seized his revolver and ran to the window. The burglar had made his escape.

The wounded burglar was arrested later by the police.

PROF. W. M. SLOANE.

The Author of the Great Work on Napoleon to Transfer His Allegiance.

New York, Nov. 17.—Prof. Wm. M. Sloane, of Princeton, has accepted the Seth Low professorship of history in Columbia University. He was elected to-day at a meeting of the board of trustees. He will be at the head of the department of history.

Professor Sloane is the author of the series of articles, which have appeared in the Century Magazine on Napoleon Bonaparte, and which have added much to the author's reputation.

He is a native of Ohio and a graduate of Columbia University. At present he is at the head of the historical department of Princeton University. Before he had this position he was professor of Latin in the university.

IS NOW SENATOR.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 17.—A. S. Clay, who was yesterday nominated by the Democratic caucus for United States Senator, was to-day formally elected to that office by the general assembly. One hundred and ninety-eight votes were cast, of which 161 were for Clay. The Populists cast their thirty-four votes for Gen. William Phillips and the Republicans gave their three votes to Maj. J. F. Hansen.

ROCHESTER WANTS RUSIE.

Willing to Pay Eight Thousand Dollars for His Release.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Rochester means, if possible, to win the Eastern League pennant next year. In order to do this the management have already begun the work of securing the best of timber for the team. A bid has already been made for the great Amos Rusie, once the pride of New York.

This dispatch was sent by President Charlie Leingruber, of the Rochester club, to President Freedman, of the New York club:

"Will give $8,000 for Rusie's release to the Rochester club."
 Mr. Leingruber said this morning that he intends to make every liberal inducement to Freedman to obtain Rusie's release. "I think," he said, "that the big Hoosier would be willing to come here under the circumstances. We do not care for the expense, as he would prove a big drawing card. Freedman has several offers of $6,000 for Rusie."

SENATOR VOORHEES' MIND.

Alarming Reports Concerning His Present Condition.

New York, Nov. 17.—Alarming news comes from Indianapolis of the condition of Senator Daniel W. Voorhees. Immediately after the election friends of the Senator began an inquiry into his condition, with a view to learning whether to make a fight for the complimentary nomination of the Democratic caucus. It is now announced that no effort will be made in his behalf.

The reason assigned is that the Senator is beyond all hope of recovery and that even were the empty honor bestowed upon him, his mental condition is such that he would not even understand its import.

He is suffering from paresis and has reached a stage where he is unconscious of what is going on around him. A friend of the Senator who visited Terre Haute Friday has stated that he is as helpless as a child, being unable to do anything for himself, and that he is slowly breathing out his life. His physical health is good, but he has aged greatly within the past four months and his death is a question of a few weeks.

BALTIMORES FOR SALE.

Here's a Chance for Some City to Get a Winning Team.

Baltimore, Nov. 17.—Manager Ned Hanlon said to-day that he had twenty-two men on the Baltimore's reserve list for next season. From amongst the youngsters he expects to pick half a dozen good players. Stenzel is the only man who has as yet signed a contract, but Hanlon does not anticipate any trouble on that line.

When asked if the management had any idea of dividing up or selling the team, the "foxy" manager said no; that they had made the offer to Philadelphia and it had not been accepted. He was confident that $125,000 a year could be made with the Baltimore team in Philadelphia. At any rate, continued the champion's manager, the team will not be divided up. It goes as a whole or not at all. If it were divided the men would never be able to play the ball they have been playing.

He finally admitted that he would be willing to sell the team as a whole, but wanted a good price for it. If the pennant-winning team should be sold, which is hardly probable, as the owners want too much money for it, Hanlon and Von der Horst will either sell the Baltimore franchise or build up a new team out of the material recently acquired.

TAYLOR'S PASSPORT RETURNED.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 17.—It is reliably stated that an officer on the Newark this afternoon received a telegram from a brother officer in New York, stating that Minister Hannis Taylor, at Madrid, has been given his passport and requested to leave Spain.

Why

Do people buy Hood's Sarsaparilla in preference to any other,—in fact almost to the exclusion of all others?

Because

They know from actual use that Hood's is the best, i. e., it cures when others fail. Hood's Sarsaparilla is still made under the personal supervision of the educated pharmacist who originated it.

The question of cost is just as positively decided in favor of Hood's as the question of comparative sales.

Another thing: Every advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla is true, is honest.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
